Purpose: The purpose of this seminar is to write about your life, share your writing with seminar members, and hear their stories.

Description: Whatever we call the form - autobiography, memoir, personal history, family history - writing about one's life is a powerful human need. Many people want to leave behind some record of their accomplishments, thoughts and adventures. If it's a family history it will have the added value of telling one's children and grandchildren about their heritage.

Writers are the custodians of memory, and memories have a way of dying with their owner. One of the saddest sentences we know is "I wish I had asked my mother about that." In this seminar, you'll enjoy writing about your life, as well as hearing the stories of other people's lives. The atmosphere is relaxed, but the serious efforts of all concerned help to make this a rewarding experience for the whole group.

Role of participants: Each participant is expected to write at home about his or her life whether through anecdotes, letters, conversations, or in full detail. During the semester everyone will be given two opportunities to present, by reading aloud from his or her prepared texts, and to contribute to the discussions that follow.
