1 To join a breakout room, hover over its name in the window that will appear when the rooms are opened (about 3:15) and click on the "Join" button that appears. The window will also show you who is already in each room. You can keep that window up so that you can move between rooms, as well as back to the main room. Or you can retrieve that window at any time by clicking on the "breakout rooms" button on your meeting control bar.
